

Client: Nancy Ng

Why do you want a website?

- To organize
- paperless

Do they want a responsive design?

- Sure (to be used on phone)

What does your business do?

- Personal use
 - What are some requirements of your site? What must exist on the site? Menus, examples of work, contact information, etc...
 - Pictures
 - Descriptions
 - (I suggested a section to add notes)
 - Do you want anyone else to look at your website?
 - No, private (preferred)
 - Can you list any websites that you really like?
 - Cooking websites..
 - Websites I pulled for examples:
 - <http://www.delish.com/>
 - <http://allrecipes.com/>
 - (Definitely add a easy dinner/meal section)
 - Are there any special features you need on your website?
 - (I explained features)
 - Search tool function
 - Short, precise (content) easy to search & find
 - She says: whatever I think is best, only emphasis on making it easy
 - Try to make it fewer pages
 - LOTS OF PICS
 - Videos
 - Easy recipes
 - Big text
 - Eye-soothing colors: pastels
 - Maybe have multiple recipes of the same dish
 - Be able to share with friends feature
 - Do you want a section dedicated to the dishes that you will make?
 - Okay
-
- English/Chinese bilingual
 - Easy conversion (like we use metric, they use liters or grams –makes it hard)
 - Easy print out pages (for just ingredients and/or just the directions)

- She mentioned a website that had comparative shopping
- <http://dailycookingquest.com/>
- <http://www.daydaycook.com/search/en/index.html?q=hong%20kong>
-